A complete turn-around

She refused to talk to me about it and did not want to see me.

08/23/2017

One of my daughters had given up the practice of her Catholic faith. She was involved with an Eastern ideological group for years. She refused to talk to me about it and did not want to see me. She cut all connections with me.

I prayed the Saint Josemaria prayer for her every day. Her husband is a Catholic. He asked me not to talk to her, but to pray.

A few days ago I went to tea with another of our daughters, and to my surprise I found her there. We left at the same time, and when we were outside she told me, “I have something to tell you: I’ve been to Confession and Holy Communion.” Now she is practicing again and even gives catechism classes to children. I attribute this complete turn-around to the intercession of Saint Josemaria.
