

Episode 1 - Finding God in and through my family

Opus Dei arrived in Ireland 75 years ago, when a young Spanish engineer stepped off the ferry at Dun Laoghaire port, just outside Dublin City, to begin Opus Dei activities in Ireland. To commemorate the 75th Anniversary, we have a series of 6 interviews from men and women across Ireland who wish to share how Opus Dei has positively influenced their lives.

In our first episode, Siobhan shares with us her experience of being a mother and wife. Even amid the chaos of small children, God's mercy and love is present.
