Channel of Saint Josemaría on YouTube.

The Opus Dei Office of Information has created the Saint Josemaría channel to make the founder's life and teachings better known.

It offers many hours of videos of Saint Josemaría Escrivá. People from all over the world have the opportunity to listen to someone who is now in heaven speaking about God.

Benedict XVI recently expressed the hope that the Internet and sites such as YouTube would be used as a meeting place for “Christians from all over the world and for believers from all religions and cultures. And also for those who do not believe in God, but who harbor in their heart a hunger for eternity, for truths that are lasting” (Benedict XVI, 24 January 2010).
