Fr. Paul Mimbi, representing the pro-Chancellor of Strathmore University, spoke about the leadership style of don Alvaro, with whom he lived for several years. He spoke of the paradoxical mixture of bon Alvaro's personality: personal humility and a fierce resolve, timidity and ferociousness, shy and fearless.

After the speeches about Don Alvaro Lucy Mulli, the producer, spoke about Bloom where you are planted, a short documentary about how Opus Dei has taken root in Kenyan soil. It was shown immediately afterwards.

People had a chance to see the panels which outline don Alvaro's life, his service to the Church and the social projects that Don Alvaro encouraged and initiated. People also got a chance to buy some books and materials for them to be more familiar with this soon to be blessed.

The exhibition will continue in Strathmore University until 8th September. Afterwards it will be in Strathmore School (19-21 September), Kianda School (23-25

September, and Holy Family Basilica Nairobi (26-28 September).

The exhibition will travel outside
Nairobi in October and November.
