

Bishop Echevarría Has Minor Lung Infection

The Prelate of Opus Dei, Bishop Javier Echevarría, is in the Campus Bio-Medico hospital in Rome with a minor lung infection.

12/07/2016

Bishop Javier Echevarría has been hospitalized owing to a minor lung infection. He will spend several days there until the course of antibiotics is completed.

The Prelate expresses his gratitude for the care he is receiving from the Campus Bio-Medico staff and for the many expressions of affection that he has received.

pdf | document generated automatically from https://opusdei.org/en-lk/article/bishop-echevarriahospitalized-with-minor-lung-infection/
(02/20/2026)