A Birthmark on my Granddaughter's Face

My granddaughter, Caroline, was born with birthmark on her face that covered her forehead, nose and upper lip.

which was very disheartening. They only agreed that it would be very difficult to remove.

I decided to pray to Guadalupe as fervently as I could, since I was really worried. Now the girl is eighteen months old and the birthmark has completely disappeared.
