Helping my children at home and with their studies

Online classes: an opportunity to grow in devotion to Don Alvaro

10/21/2021

I am a mother of three children. Ever since a friend of mine spoke to me about Blessed Alvaro del Portillo, I have been praying to him for years, always asking him for help, especially for one of my children who has problems concentrating and who does not like to study.

With a lot of love, dedication and patience and adapting ourselves to my son's pace, with the help of Blessed Alvaro's prayer card, despite the difficulties that we all had, we asked that the boy would slowly become more responsible with his studies and become more mature.

I can say that with confinement at home and on-line classes, I expected him to have greater difficulties in attending doing exams. Surprisingly, without my having to tell him anything, my son woke up every morning at the time to connect to the videoconference, and he passed all the subjects for the second term.

For me, this was a favour of Blessed Alvaro. Besides, every time I refer matters to him, he is always there for me.
