

opusdei.org

“The greatest revolution of all times”

If we Christians really lived in accordance with our faith, the greatest revolution of all times would take place. The effectiveness of our co-redemption depends on each one of us. You should meditate on this. (Furrow, 945)

October 13

You will feel completely responsible when you realize that, before God, you have only duties. He already sees to it that you are granted rights.

(Furrow, 946)

Here is a thought to help you in difficult moments. "The more my faithfulness increases, the better will I be able to contribute to the growth of others in that virtue". How good it is to feel supported by each other.
(Furrow, 948)

You run the great risk of being satisfied with living, or thinking that you have to live, "like a good boy", who stays in a cosy and neat house, with no problems, and knowing only happiness. That is a caricature of the home in Nazareth. Because Christ brought happiness and order, he went out to spread those treasures among men and women of all times.
(Furrow, 952)

pdf | document generated
automatically from https://opusdei.org/en-us/dailytext/the-greatest-revolution-of-all-times/ (04/01/2026)